YOU WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER . . . coming to LHS during your junior high school days and thinking, "It's so big!" . . . getting lost on the first day of school . . . finding your homeroom in the auditorium or Coburn Hall . . . finding your locker on the third floor when your homeroom was in the basement . . . running into your old junior high friends in the corridor . . . having to wear I.D. badges . . . pushing through the crowded hallways to get to class on time . . . coming to school in the middle of the morning and getting out just before dark . . . getting in trouble and being sent to the floormaster . . . sneaking a smoke between classes . . . playing cards in the student lounge . . . skipping health . . . walking in the snow and the rain over to St. Anne's, the Health Building, and the Annex . . . finding out who your teachers were going to be for the next year and hearing all the horrible things about them from the kids who had them this year . . . looking up to the seniors and wondering, "Am I ever gonna be like that?" . . . forgetting your locker combination when you were in a hurry . . . having your lock stolen . . . being late for class . . . practicing and practicing for Field Day.

MEMORIES THAT LINGER ... eating lunch in the hall ... running to beat the lines in the lunchroom ... coming back to school and finding it all painted and no more Coburn Hall ... watching the educational films in Drivers' Ed ... wondering, "What is that awful smell coming from the Chemistry class?" ... practicing for drill ... going back to regular school hours after the extended day ... getting hit on the head with a clacker ... bringing back the yo-yo ... square dancing in the annex without enough boys to go around ... having classes outside in the hot weather ... visiting all the Christmas parties ... wearing gym uniforms ... meeting new friends ... getting picked to work in an office or Personnel for senior year ... having your lock sawed off your locker ... wishing you were a senior so you could have a Senior Skip Day too ... practicing the clubs ... doing homework in another class ... marching behind the auditorium ... writing on desks ... smoking in the basement ... having Mr. Finn, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. O'Neil, and Mr. Murphy for floormasters ... seeing the Headmaster for the first time.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER ... finding out your schedule for next year and trying to get it changed ... hanging around after lunch and waiting for the bell to ring ... buying your class ring ... getting measured for caps and gowns ... having student teachers ... going to the nurses' office ... changing for gym ... getting accepted to college ... not having a homeroom during sophomore year ... having your eyes tested in the auditorium ... getting your first after-school job ... getting your hair cut short for the first time in many years ... registering to vote ... copying homework ... cutting classes ... daydreaming in biology class ... smoking in the girls' room ... waiting for the 2:15 bell ... studying for your drivers' test to get your permit ... doodling in your literature book ... walking to school in the dark during the energy crisis ... marching in the Field Day Parade ... getting your license ... meeting your friends under the clock ... registering for the draft ... parking in the muddy lot across the canal ... doing the Greek Dance at the Chateau de Ville ... walking up to the stage to receive your diploma from Mayor LeMay.

If I could save time in a bottle,
The first thing that I'd like to do,
Is to save ev'ry day 'til eternity passes away
Just to spend them with you ...

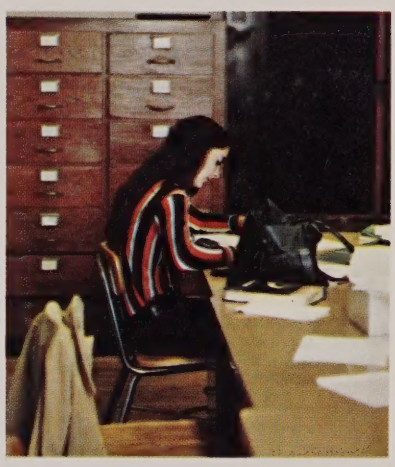
—Jim Croce

The ink is black, the page is white;
Together we learn, to read and write.
The world is black, the world is white;
It turns by day, and then by night.
A child is black, a child is white;
Together they grow, to see the light,
To see the light!
—David Arkin

WILL YOU EVER FORGET ... all the freedom we had during the Open Campus of our freshman year ... how embarrassed you were to get caught in your gym suit during a fire drill ... bomb scares ... the student walkout ... the temporary "classrooms" in Coburn Hall ... all those studies in the auditorium ... "Attention, please, Daily Notice for ... " ... the candy machine ... ice cream in the caf ... Godspell ... the New York City Trip ... Chorus ... The Band ... Jesus Christ Superstar ... the school trip to Europe ... the G.O. and C.O. formals, which were exciting even if you didn't go ... the New England Aquarium ... HOMEWORK ... cake sales ... Whalom Park ... minicourses ... outside reading books ... report cards ... one thirds ... the bell ... open house?

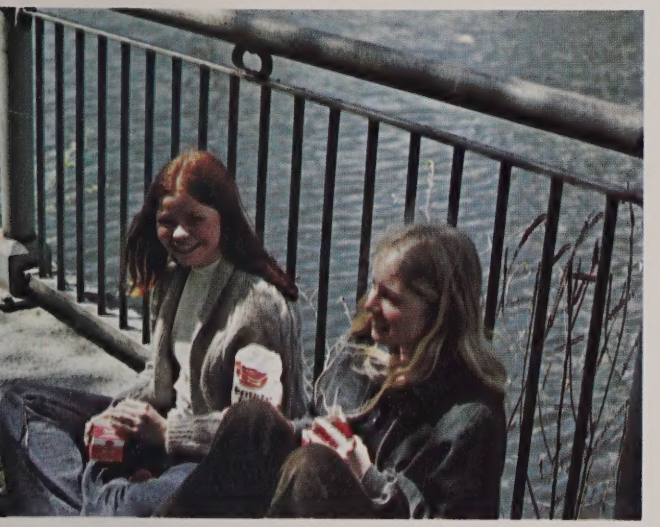
Bless the beasts and the children,
For in this world they have no voice,
They have no choice.
Bless the beasts and the children,
For the world can never be, the world they see.
Light their way, when the darkness surrounds them;
Give them love, let it shine all around them.
Bless the beasts and the children,
Give them shelter from a storm;
Keep them safe; Keep them warm.

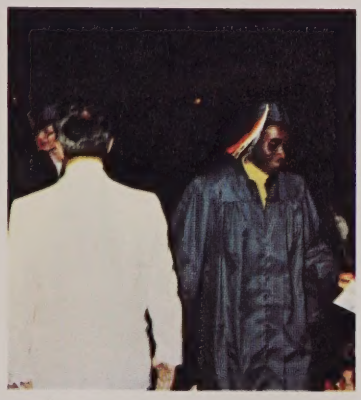
—The Carpenters

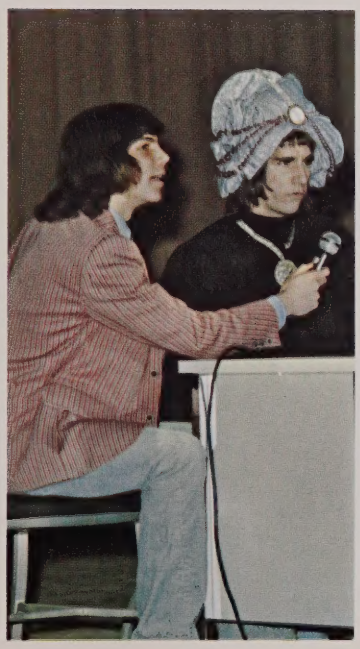


MEMENTOES OF LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL LIFE ... combination locks ... the library ... the National Honor Society ... cuffs ... clogs ... mini- midi- maxi- ... warning reports ... class dues ... class elections ... yearbook portraits ... Honor Day ... substitutes ... hot toothpicks ... saddle shoes ... the Red Raiders ... basketball games ... Miss Conroy's cooking class ... the choice we had of whether we wanted to go to a study hall or enjoy a spare in the lounge ... R1, R2, R3, R4 ... assemblies ... how happy you were to make Girl Officers ... girls crying in the halls when the list was announced ... assignment halls ... tardy slips ... boys' gym in the girls' club ... clocks that didn't keep time ... bells and fire alarms that you couldn't hear ... SCHOOL VACATIONS ... snow days ... try-outs ... the wrestlers ... The Harvest ... cheerleaders ... the talent shows ... The Cadet Officers' uniforms ... streakers? at LHS.

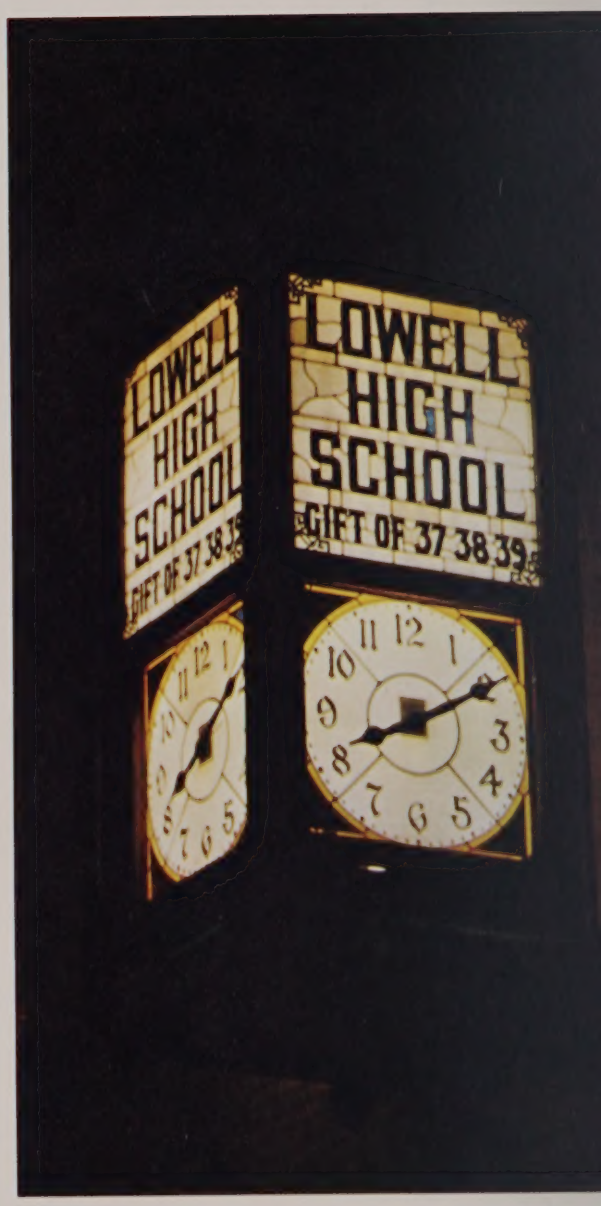
Mem'ries – light the corners of my mind.
Misty water colored mem'ries, of the way we were.
Can it be that it was all so simple then,
Or has time re-written ev'ry line?
If we had the chance to do it all again,
Tell me would we? Could we?
So it's the laughter we will remember,
Whenever we remember, the way we were;
The way we were.
–Marvin Hamlisch







FROM OUT OF OUR PAST ... "Dismissal will be by floors in the usual manner" ... the courtyard ... the "old" building ... the end of daylight saving time ... the energy shortage ... Beowulf ... Hampton Beach the day after the Prom ... The Review ... the dress code ... The Student Council ... hot pants ... The Rock and Roll music history program in the auditorium ... West Side Story ... Oklahoma ... Tom Jones ... the visit of the Apollo Astronauts ... "Emo" ... the 50's Dance ... Speeches by Senator Brooke and Senator Kennedy ... "Yaz" ... crowded lockers ... tardy slips ... music in the lunchroom ... the language lab ... College Boards ... Mr. Trull ... Mr. Garvey's movies ... the red and gray ... the stadium ... the student-faculty basketball games ... Civil Service Exams ... guidance ... Graduation on June 5, 1974.



LOWELL
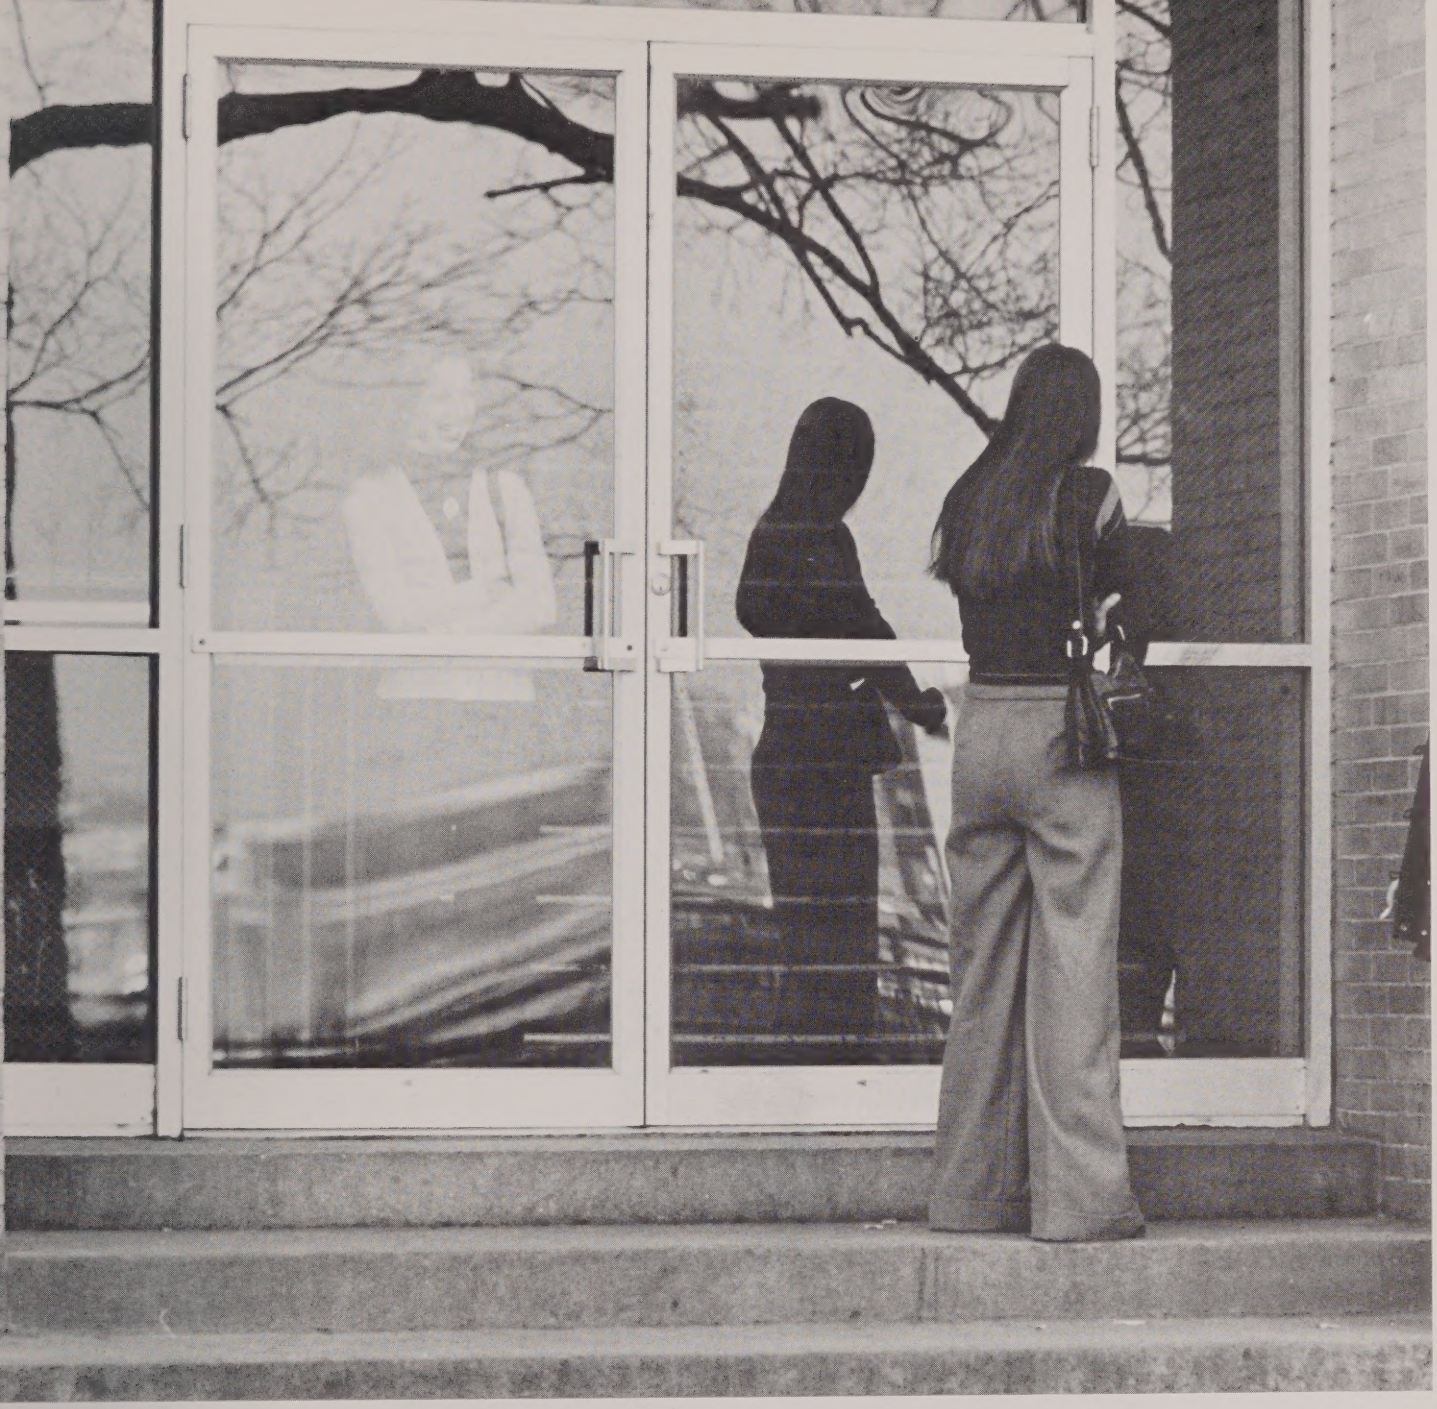
GIFT OF 37 38 39



Lowell High School, Lowell High School,
May we ever stand
Honest, faithful, and courageous,
Loyal to our land.
Lowell High School, Lowell High School,
We shall all be true
To the ideals you teach us,
Through and through.

Faculty and Administration

Earl A. Sharfman
Superintendent of Schools

G. Douglas Sullivan, Deputy Superintendent, and Chester L. Somers, Assistant Superintendent

THE LOWELL SCHOOL COMMITTEE. Seated: Katherine Philbin Stoklosa; Mayor Armand W. LeMay, Chairman; Patricia A. Malloy. Standing: George W. O'Hare; Clement G. McDonough; Wayne R. Peters; George D. Kouloheras, Vice Chairman.

Raymond A. Sullivan

Headmaster

As you graduate from The Lowell High School, the wishes of the faculty and administration are that, during the years you have been growing with us, you have developed academic skills that you will need in the years ahead for understanding and working with others, that you have learned the value of striving, and that you have experienced the excitement of learning.

We are proud of you and hopeful for your future. Never forget that education only begins in school; it ends only when life ends.

Teachers Retire

During this year, Lowell High School was disappointed to lose, through retirement, the valued services of Miss Katherine Quinn, well known member of the English Department, and Mr. John Leary, Chairman of the Latin Department.

During the years of her membership in the Lowell High School faculty, Miss Quinn earned the respect and admiration of her colleagues through her dedication to the study of the classics. Her students will long remember The Lady of the Lake, The Idylls of the King, and other great works to which she devoted many teaching hours. Her example as a member of the teaching profession has been an inspiration to those who espouse the traditional values of education.

Realizing that the Lowell High School will be diminished by the absence of Miss Quinn, the Senior Class wishes to thank her for her years of dedication to her profession. We wish her joy in her retirement.

Throughout his 35 years at Lowell High, John Leary enjoyed an enviable reputation as a capable administrator, a widely-read classics scholar, a demanding teacher who was always willing to give as much of himself as he expected of others and, most important, a real friend to countless students and colleagues.

In the Boston College yearbook of 1930, Jack Leary's classmates accurately observed: "Here's a man who does everything, thinks everything, and says everything with a smile. Jack is one fellow who never seems to find anything in the world to displease him, and this happy faculty has drawn to him a host of real friends and made him a favorite in any class or gathering."

Now, many years and many yearbooks later, Jack Leary's host of real friends, past and present, faculty and students alike, wish him every happiness in his retirement. His presence at the Lowell High School will be long felt.

The Harvest

On the evening of Friday, November 16, Girl Officers and their guests spent a memorable evening at the Rolling Green Restaurant, site of their annual Harvest Dance, dancing and listening to the music provided by the Image.

These couples were among those present who shared in the evening's festivities.

Cadet Officers

The Cadet Officers' Brigade has been a unique institution at Lowell High School since 1880. Both written and oral competitions are conducted to fill the ranks. Another competition is conducted at the beginning of the senior year for promotions within the ranks.

Brigadier General Joseph Davis and Colonel Richard Kew have been leading the brigade during the 1973-74 school year.

Colonel John Beaulieu and Lieutenant Philip Dancause are the faculty directors of the program

As Juniors, boys march in the Annex.

The C. O.

Aglow with bright lights, a rainbow of elegantly gowned girls and the strains of soft music, the ballroom of the Commodore Club of Lowell provided a dramatic backdrop to the Cadet Officers' formal dance, the highlight of the social season for Lowell High's impressively uniformed brigade.

Girl Officers

With perfect posture, eyes front, flashing sword and pointed toe, the Girl Officers have once more gained the admiration of all.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Beatrice Johnston, the girls have demonstrated the fine points of marching, dancing, posture, voice and mass drill, and are justifiably proud to wear their smart navy blue uniform with brass buttons and gold chevrons.

During their junior year, the girls spent long hours perfecting their exercises. The choice of the leaders was made in May, 1973 by three out-of-town judges. The officers, as chosen leaders, teach gym exercises to underclassmen and help to develop future Girl Officers.

Marching in the Field Day parade is an important part of 1st Lt. Patrice Quinn's activities as a Girl Officer.

The G. O.

In a whirl of color and beauty, on February 8, the Girl Officers enjoyed their traditional Mid-Winter Formal at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium, which was gaily decorated for the occasion in crisp red and white.

As sounds of music and laughter filled the air, the evening passed swiftly. The receiving line for honored guests, city and school department officials, was followed by the traditional Grand March, during which the grace and breathtaking dignity of the girls and their dates were exhibited to perfection.

Cindy Hardy approaches the Hully Gully with considerably more enthusiasm than her date, Frank Kostylo.

Right: Leading the Grand March, the highlight of the evening, are Col. Pam O'Donnell, and Kevin Barry, and Lt. Col. Kathy Boyle, and Joseph Slattery.

Jimmy Moriarty and Donna Gendron share a moment of lighthearted humor with Annmarie Mahoney and her date, Ronnie Lavasseur.

Kevin Mulligan and Frances Casserly join in the spirited Greek Dance, an overwhelming favorite.

Ann Marie Bellerose is followed by her sister, Elaine, William Gilbride, Sharon Carr, Mark Coan, Leanne Bowles and Tom Bailey as they graciously greet well-wishers in the receiving line.

Sparkling with youth and exuberance, the girls and their excorts danced to the music of Billy Notini and his orchestra, capturing the thrilling moments of the exciting evening in memories to be savored in the years to come.

Seen from the balcony during the Grand March are Carol Cuipa and Mario Mierzwn, followed by Cathy O'Neil and her date, Tim Fallon, whose appearance proves that even with a broken arm you can look dashing in a tux.

Mr. Murphy, Senior floormaster, and Mrs. Murphy, warmly greeted each girl and her date.

As the couples moved about the floor, the festivity of the atmosphere was heightened by a rainbow of balloons which came floating through the air.

The Spindle

The Lowell High School yearbook, The Spindle, has undergone many changes during the last few years. The most significant of these occurred three years ago when members of the class of 1972 voted overwhelmingly for a fall delivery of the yearbook. Since then, a large majority of each class has been in favor of this procedure. Lowell High School is the only major high school in the area to choose a fall delivery although most colleges have been receiving their books in the fall for many years. Late delivery permits a larger yearbook, with full coverage of all senior activities, up to, and including graduation. Other major changes in The Spindle include 16 full color pages, the largest color section of any high school yearbook in New England, and the addition of 64 pages. In the last two years, the book has been enlarged from 176 to 240 pages.

This fine department is responsible for all mimeographing work done in the school, such as printed tests, office forms, absentee lists, daily notices, and schedules.

Girl Officers line up to march on to the field for the Mass Drill.

Field Day is a tradition at Lowell High School which predates the turn of the century. The exercises begin with a parade through downtown Lowell exhibiting companies of white uniformed girls, carrying crepe paper shakers and Indian clubs, and boys in military dress carrying rifles. Traditionally the girls, led by Girl Officers in their navy blue uniform, participate in various exercises, while the boys, under the supervision of the Cadet Officers, vie for honors in competitive drills. Recently, more gym activities have been added to the boys program placing emphasis on physical fitness.

Majors Debra Montbleau and Mary McGann expertly lead the junior girls in their performance of the club drill.

Boys' Basketball

The 1974 basketball squad compiled a 6-13 ledger. The team, though, was better than their record implies. As in the previous year, Coach Crowley received clutch shooting from senior Don Mulligan. Co-Captains Jim Glenn and Gregg Hill provided the height and muscle underneath. Underclassmen also contributed firepower. Sophomore Steve Creamer was the team's scoring leader. A cool headed guard, sophomore Al Dennis, livened up the games while baffling opponents with his great ball control. Junior Tim Bassett could always be counted on for needed baskets. A team as good as the 1974 Red and Gray quintet only needs a few breaks to go places and this group of hoopsters got their fair share.

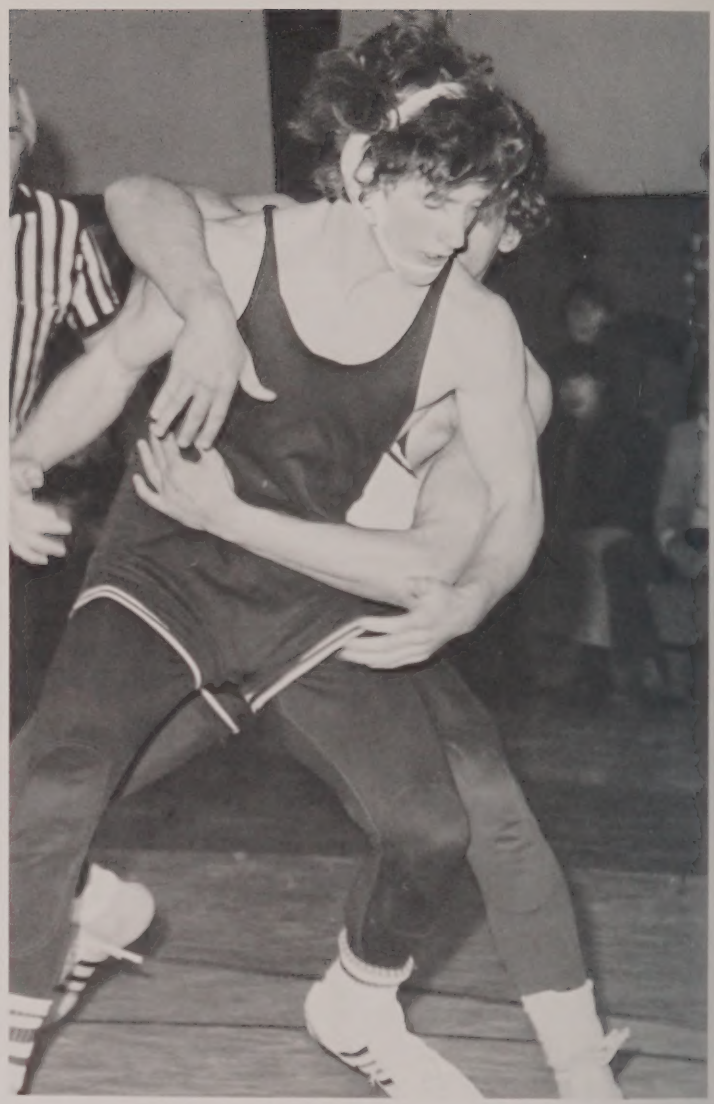
Wrestling

1974 will not just be remembered as a very good wrestling year, but as a super, sensational, spectacular, or a 'however you care to describe it' wrestling year. The Red and Gray, copped their 2nd consecutive State wrestling title. Juniors George Kacavas and Earle McQuaide, vital keys to the '75 squad, were crowned state champs at 100 and 158 pounds respectively. George (18-0-0) also clinched the New England title. Prior to the State showdown, George Kacavas, Brian Dillon, Bill Furey, Earle McQuaide, Bob Smith and Don Conroy, contributing to the record breaking 183 points with their first place finishes, paced the Raiders to an easy Northern Sectionals romp.



Bob Smith escapes a tough hold.

November, 1973 — a time of rebirth, revival, beginning, for Red and Gray hockey. Three lines, three goalies, green, fresh rookies straight from nowhere. Their inexperience showed in the games and ultimately, the scores, but they skated well and surpassed their coach's expectations. They also improved as the season wore on. As a matter of fact, the Raiders knocked off Lawrence twice in the latter stages of the year, missing the shutout by a few seconds in their last encounter. There are no individual stars to be mentioned here; as Coach Sullivan once stated, everything was accomplished through team effort. And sorry, there are no stats worthy to be spread across these yearbook pages, either. You seniors need not be embarrassed, though. When you read of your alma mater's success on the ice in future years, remember that you helped to form a sturdy foundation for a very strong team.

Baseball

Mike Skaff's '74 diamond crew romped through their first five outings before cooling off and finally recording a respectible 7-5 seasonal ledger. The Red & Gray offensive battery was headed by the sizzling .405 batting average of Steve Creamer. Greg Hill (.321), Don Piché (.313), and Mark Dendy (.292) provided the balanced attack at the plate needed to score runs and win games. Second baseman and Captain, Dave Ruszczyk, knocked in ten runs and crossed the plate ten times himself. Southpaw Bill Maloney handled the bulk of the pitching chores, fashioning five of the seven LHS victories, while dropping only two decisions. He kept the opposition honest with 78 strikeouts and a brilliant .083 ERA. While Bill successfully tended to his mound duties, his teammates performed likewise at the plate.

Captain, Dave Ruszczyk, talks with Coach Skaff.

863 Receive Diplomas

On June 5, 1974, one of the largest senior classes in recent Lowell High School history graduated during a ceremony at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium.

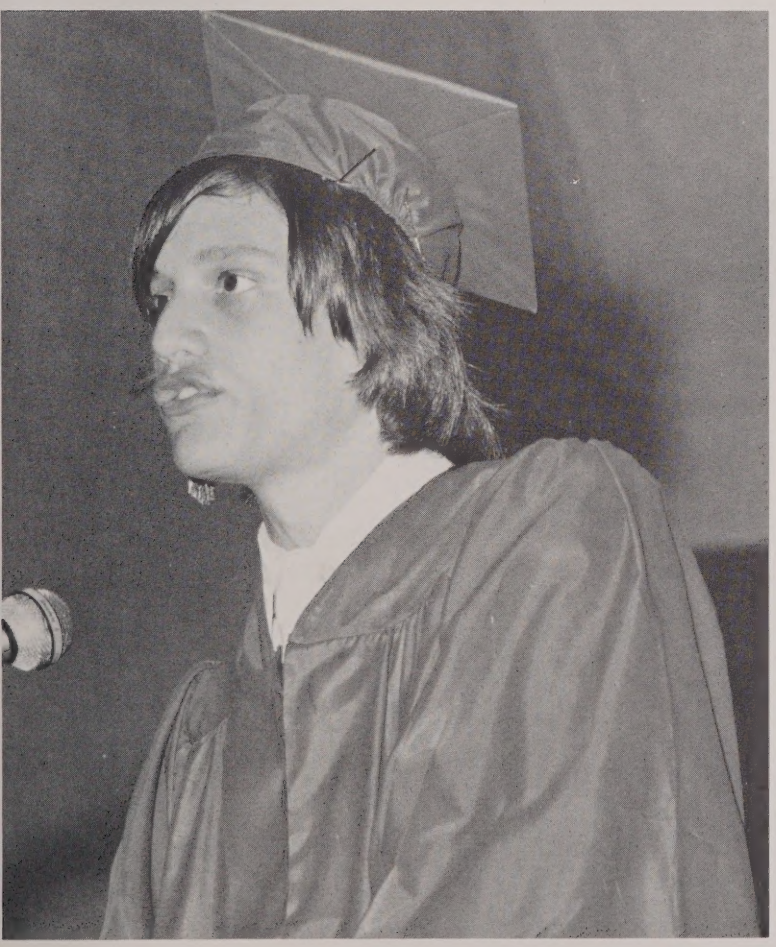
Mayor Armand W. LeMay awarded diplomas to the 863 graduates, and Superintendent of Schools Earl Sharfman awarded the honors, amongst them the coveted Carney Medals which go to the three highest ranking boys and the three highest ranking girls in the senior class.

The invocation for the graduation exercises was delivered by Rev. Francis J. Ouellette, O.M.I., while Rabbi James M. Lebeau concluded the ceremonies with his benediction.

Clutching her awards in one hand and her recalcitrant cap in the other, Reneé Hebert, recipient of both the Alice F. D. Pearson Medal and the High School Faculty Scholarship, can't believe her good fortune.

Clare M. Smith (right), winner of the Franklin E. Johnson Book Prize is congratulated by jubilant friends.

CARNEY MEDALISTS. Being congratulated by Superintendent of Schools, Earl Sharfman, are this year's recipients of the Carney Medals: Robert I. Mizner, Charles Taylor, Mark R. Aguiar, Pamela H. Rey, Gayle C. McMahon, and Patricia A. Sullivan.



Valedictorian, Robert I. Mizner, delivers his address on the subject of education.

HONORS AND AWARDS

The Franklin E. Johnson Book Prize for excellence in the English department went to Clare M. Smith; the Lowell Boston College Club Prize for excellence in the Latin department to Charles R. Taylor; the Alliance Franchise Prize for excellence in the French department to Pamela H. Rey; the High School Alumni Association Prize for excellence in the Math department to John J. Aclin; the Alice F. D. Pearson Medals for excellence in the business education department went to Reneé J. Hebert, secretarial division, and Maureen R. Donnelly, accounting division; and the Margaret E. White Memorial Scholarship to Miss Hebert.

Perfect attendance awards were given to Heather Dubois, four years, and Charles Taylor, three years.

Before the ceremonies begin, Stanley Fall and a friend take a moment to peruse the program.

In the percussion section of the band, the cowbell provides an interesting accent.

HONORABLE MENTION

During the ceremonies, honorable mention was made of those who attained a scholarship rank of 90 percent: John Aclin, Paul Brouillard, Christopher Chingros, Barry DesLauriers, Kenneth DiPoto, Philip Donaghey, C. Daniel Foley, William Kaknes, Christos Koumpouras, Mark Makarewicz, Leonidas Pappas, Lisa DePaulis, Marcia Dolce, Maureen Donnelly, Anne Marie Dupuis, Sandra Evans, Susan Farrell, Diane Greenstein, Renee Hebert, Cynthia Hines, Anastasia Housianitis, Sara Huntley, Karen Kiernan, Diane R. Laferriere, Mary Jane Lelacheur, Deborah McCarthy, Jayne McGrath, Kimberly O'Brien, Annette Poitras, Linda Prud'homme, Michelle Ritchotte, Clare Smith, and Ann M. Sweeney.

Jimmy Gallagher and Gerry Gagnon are delighted to be here.

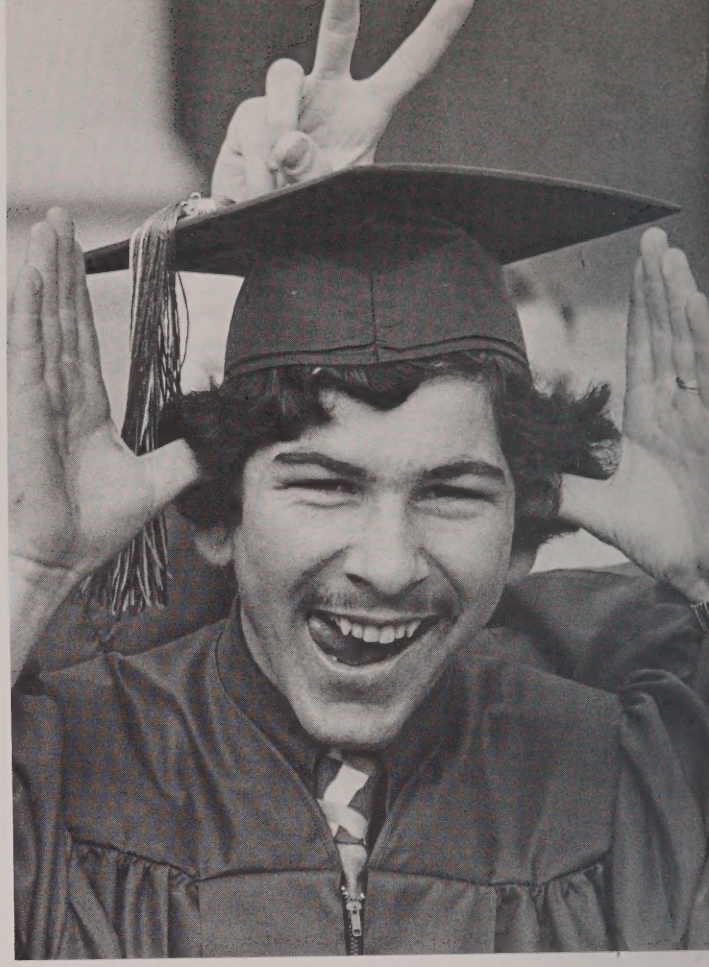
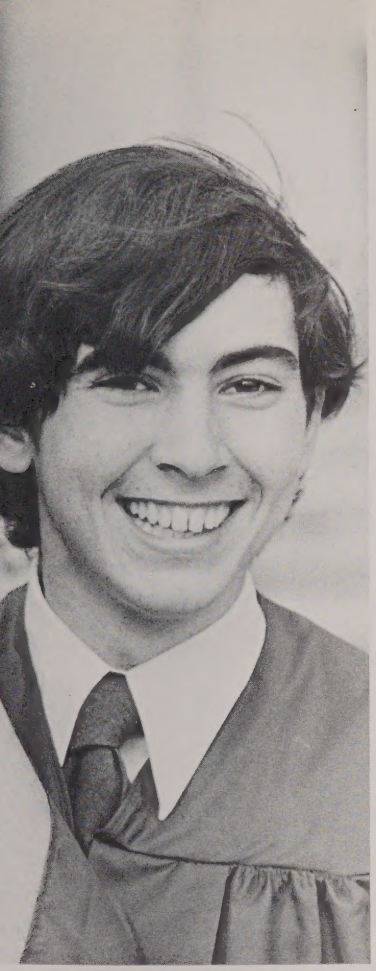
In the Spring of our lives, though Autumn it seems,
We are sad as if Winter draws near.
An end of a phase, our childhood school days,
The end of our high school career . . .

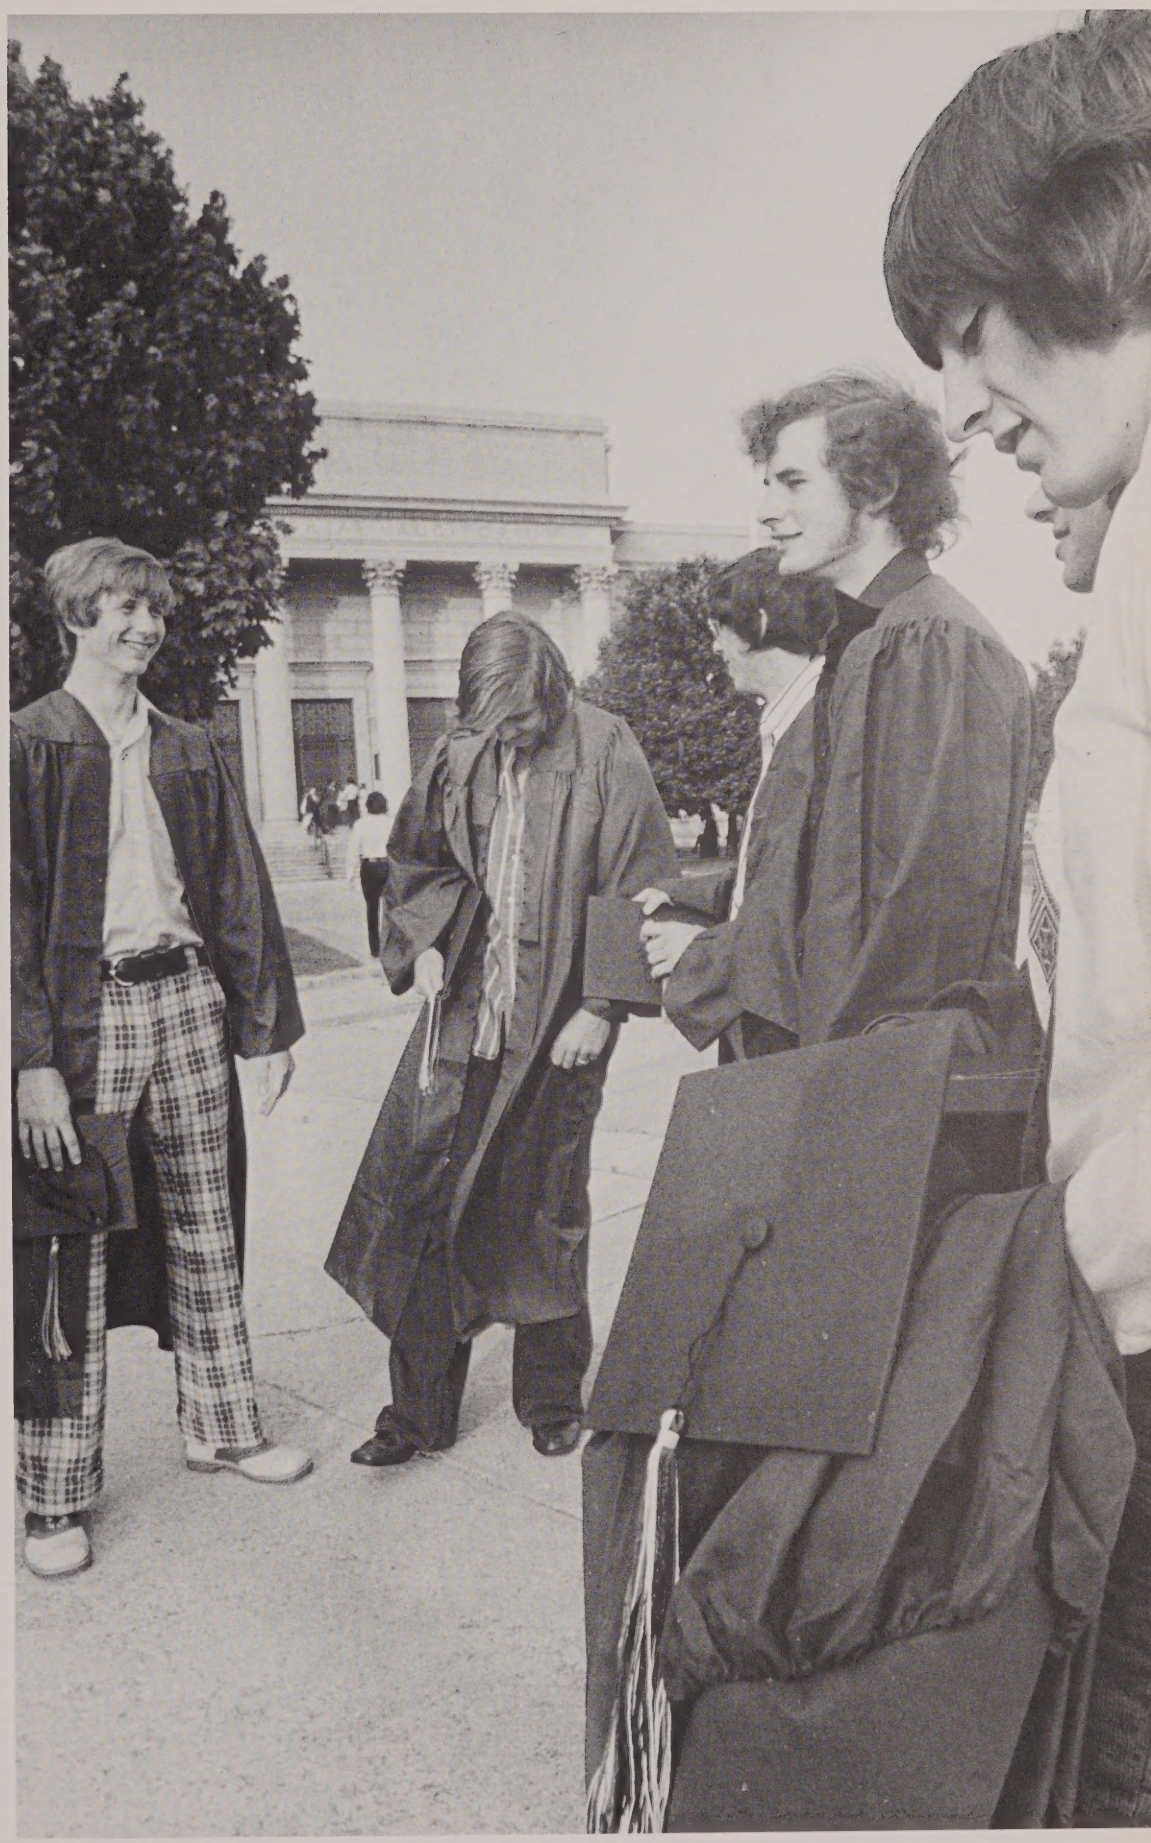
Some may be happy, some may be sad,
A lesson of life here to learn.
The past has been good, so the future, it should,
If you give what you wish in return . . .

"With this leg, what kind of a streaker do you think I'll make?"



Growing up is hard to do (for some of us).





Above: "Do we really have to wear these silly things?"

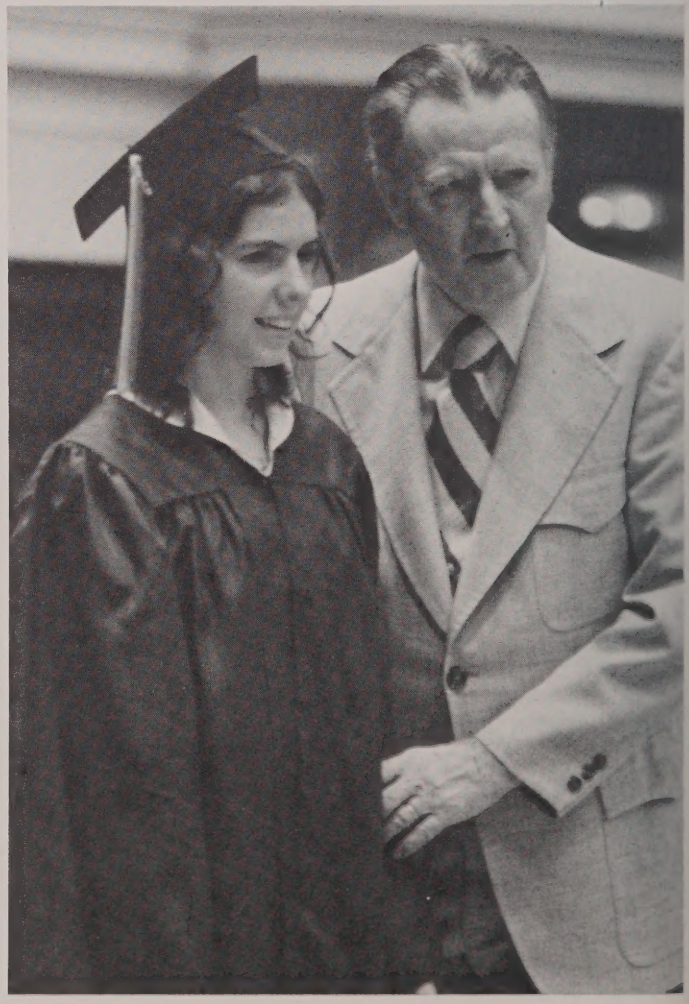
Boys wait patiently for the ceremony to end.

Rosemarie Strain reveals her musical expertise during the playing of "Pomp and Circumstance," the traditional graduation march.

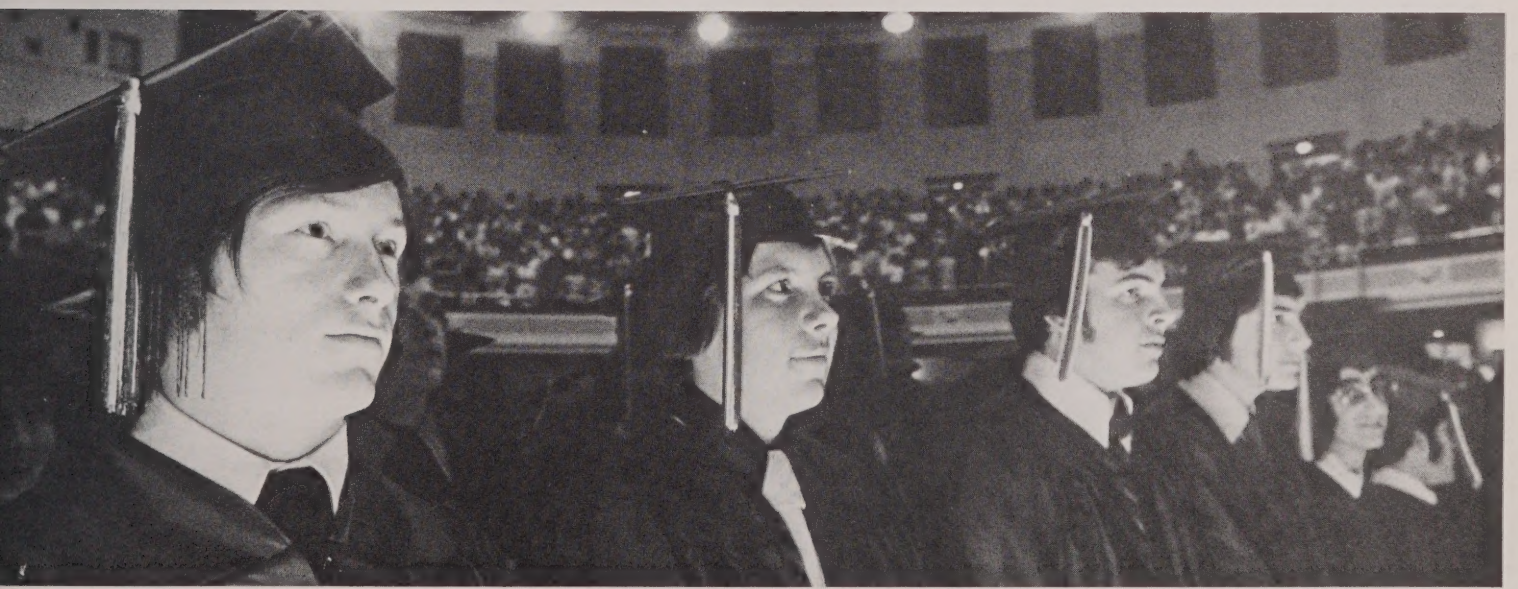


Senior floormaster, Tom Murphy, whispers words of congratulations to Donna Lepine.

Peggy and Kathy Nutter aid a friend in the difficult task of pinning on a neat white collar.

The knowledge, the ambition, the hope in our hearts.
A world of new things to do.
Reach out each hand, your cry will demand,
The future belongs to you . . .

"A funny thing happened to me on the way to the auditorium."



Conscious of the solemnity of the occasion, Kevin Avila, James Armstrong, Vic Archambault, and Ed Anteblian proudly stand for the "Star Spangled Banner."

Don't look so sad, although we must leave,
As the day of departure arrives.
It's the time to be free, to live joyfully,
In our Youth; the Spring of our lives.

Graduates of 1974,
joyous memories and sad
left behind,
look for new horizons, bright futures.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

Instead of the usual 3 or 4 years, you sign up with us for just 2 years.

It's not 2 years on a take-it or leave-it basis either. You get a choice.

You can choose your job-training. (The list is a long one, so look it over carefully. We think you'll agree that most of these jobs are the kind you can bring back with you to civilian life.)

Or, you can choose to serve in Europe. (You'll work hard, but it can also be one of the most rewarding experiences you'll ever have.)

Either way you won't come away empty-handed after two years.

Along with our new 2-year enlistment, today's Army is announcing a new salary. $326.10 a month, before deductions. With a raise to $363.30 in just four months.

Of course, you'll get all our other benefits. Meals and housing are provided. Medical and dental care are free. Plus, a 30-day paid vacation every year.

If you haven't talked to an Army Representative about our new 2-year enlistment, it may pay to look him up in the Yellow Pages. He's listed under "Recruiting."

We don't make Promises.
